Rockwood Proves Royal Hostess to the Press Gang Friday and Saturday.

The editor of the Chronicle attended the East Tennessee Press Association meeting in Rockwood Friday and Saturday. The occasion was not only a very enjoyable one, but was fruitful as well.

The people of Rockwood spared no effort to make our stay pleasant and they succeeded to the nth power. A barbecue was held for press gang and farmers of the county and to supply the needs of the press gang. The meat was splendidly cooked and was served most bounteously to all present. The fact that all that was provided was consumed is ample evidence that a large crowd was present.

The Presbyterian church people kindly allowed the newspaper men to use their handsome church building as a place of meeting. There were about fifty scribes present and many important subjects were discussed.

Friday night a most bountiful luncheon was served in the Christian church for the newspaper men. Never has it been our good fortune to feast upon more tempting viands supplied in greater abundance. Many of the leading people of Rockwood were present and spared no effort to make the occasion one of enjoyment to their guests. Such good things to eat, such generous hospitality and such an outpouring of hearty cordiality rarely falls to the lot of any one. That it was enjoyed to the fullest by all present was clearly manifested by the hearty manner in which all indulged in the goodies and accepted the good cheer tendered.

A visit to the Rockwood Hosiery Mills Saturday morning proved very interesting and was a source of much pleasant surprise to learn that there had been expended more than half a million dollars in establishing a business that was furnishing employment to more than 500 people and also bringing good returns on the investment. The management of the mills kindly gave to each editor one or more boxes of hose. Each box contained a half dozen pairs.

The Rockwood people cannot be surpassed for hospitality and finess in knowing how to entertain.

Mrs. C. O. Helm, Morristown, was chosen president and D. W. Snider, LaFollett, Secretary. The next meeting of the Association will be held in LaFollett, date to be determined later.

AID ASKED FOR YORK

Debt of $12,500 Coming Due Soon and He Has Not Means to Meet It.

The movement to raise the $12,500 remaining due on the farm of Sgt. Alvin York, world war hero, is not meeting with so hearty a response as was expected. Several of the papers over the state have taken it up and are asking for donations of one dollar or more. It is especially desired that as many as possible contribute to the end that it may prove a gift from the entire state instead of from a certain few individuals.

The papers of Nashville and Knoxville are behind the movement along with numerous other organizations and it will be a matter of greatest surprise should the effort prove a failure. In fact, no one expects it to fail. It should not fail for many reasons well known to the public generally.

Any person in this county who may wish to contribute can do so by sending the mite to the Chronicle or to any of the Knoxville or Nashville papers.

MISSING SEVERAL WEEKS

Starts on Long Trip Through Mountain Wilds and Not Heard From; Family Uneasy

The continued absence of B. L. Harsell, of Bedford, N. Y., is the cause of great anxiety to his family and friends. He left Roanoke, Va., the sixteenth of last February on a walking trip over the mountains to Jasper, Ga. He planned to be in the wilds for at least six weeks. When no word of him came to his family at the end of eight weeks they became worried. Post cards offering a $200 reward were distributed among post office officials and sheriffs along his route.

Mr. Harsell is a naturalist and hunter of big game. Although he is not familiar with the southern mountain territory which he had mapped out for his trip, he had tramped, hunted and fished in Maine, Wyoming, Canada, and in the Rocky mountains. He was without fear of the dangers of lonely trails. Moreover, he was armed and fully equipped for a long mountain hike. When last seen he was in the best of health and spirits.

Wherever he went this man made friends. He was forty-eight years old, but clean shaven and looked younger. He was over six feet in height, weighed two hundred pounds and was straight and rugged in build. He had brown hair was tinged with gray and grew well back on his forehead. He had blue eyes, regular features and the appearance of healthy, frank, outdoor gentleman.

His family are hoping that he has merely met with delay of some kind but fear that he may have become sick or disabled and is unable to get word to them. They realize the difficulty in tracing him and therefore ask that he be well treated if found alive and that word of him be sent if he is known to be dead or alive. Information of him should be sent to his brother, Norman Harsell, of Allendale, New Jersey, or to Frank Taylor, of Bristol, Virginia, P. O. Box 726.

J. H. Findlay was here from Knoxville Sunday.

Clarence Loshbough arrived home yesterday.

Mrs. W. L. Deese and family of Heflin, Alabama, motored here last week to visit Mr. Deese's sister, Mrs. J. W. Buttram. Mr. Deese was unable to accompany his family here on account of some business he was closing out. They returned to their home Monday.

Thos. Harper, son of section foreman Pete Harper, was thrown by a mule last week and his left arm broken. He is much improved now.

Dr. Alva Johnson, of Monterey, was in town Monday on business.

CHARGED WITH PICKING POCKET

Tim Phillips Lodged in Jail For Stealing Six Dollars from Herbert Tabor.

Saturday Tim Phillips was arrested and tried for stealing six dollars from Herbert Tabor. The case was heard by Esq. O. E. Rector who bound him to court in the sum of $250, and as he was unable to make bond he was remanded to jail.

Later J. R. Adams and Wm. Daves signed the bond for Phillips and he was released from jail.

The situation seems to be about as follows: Tim Phillips asked Herbert Tabor for a cigarette paper and at the same time reached in the pocket of the bib to Tabor's overalls and took out a cigarette paper. He reached into the pocket the second time and when Tabor felt in the pocket a few minutes later he found six dollars that he had placed there gone.

CHAUTAUQUA HERE TOMORROW

Tent in Court House Yard; Will Use Court House if Weather is Bad

The first of the great three-day Chautauqua entertainment will open tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, shortly after the arrival of the east-bound train. The tent will be erected in the court house yard, in case the weather should be bad the crowd can repair to the court house with little effort and there enjoy the splendid entertainment prepared for the people of Crossville and the county.

Young ladies are out soliciting people to purchase tickets. Every person should feel it a duty to assist by patronizing the Chautauqua for those who guaranteed the $500 necessary to secure it for our town and county did so with no thought of profit, but for the benefit of the whole people. It speaks well for a town the size of Crossville to secure such splendid things as these Chautauqua entertainments for they are both educational and entertaining to a high degree.

Especially should the citizens of Crossville feel it their duty to do all possible to make it a success and save the guarantors from having to individually pay the expenses; there should be no deficits for if it proves to be the case this year there is every probability that it will not be engaged for next year. It will be seen by the following program that it is worth the patronage of our people, it is clean, high class and deserves the hearty support of all.

FROM A FORMER RESIDENT

C. L. Hedgecoth Writes Interestingly From Miami, Florida, and Tells What He Is Doing.

The following letter from Clarence L. Hedgecoth, son of "Bud" Hedgecoth deceased, will interest many Cumberland countians.

Miami, Florida, August 6,

Dear Editor;

Your two recent issues of the Chronicle were received and enjoyed very much. After reading the Chronicle it seemed like I had visited among old friends and acquaintances.

I presume you hear much about Miami, Florida. This city in the 1920 census showed the greatest percent of increase of any city in the United States, showing an increase of over 400 percent in ten years and a population of over 29,000.

Since leaving Cumberland county I have traveled extensively through the southern states and have never found a city to compare with Miami in reference to climate.

I am now making regular trips between Miami, Florida, and Havana, Cuba in the U. S. Railway Mail Service in charge of mail to Cuba and other foreign countries via Havana.

My sister, Mrs. Ethel Gannaway, is now teaching in one of the largest schools in the state of Florida, The Miami Central Grammar School, at a salary of $120 per month.

I enjoyed very much reading the list of teachers for the current year in Cumberland county and was pleased to find so many of the old teachers teaching with whom I had taught.

With best wishes I remain,
Very respectfully yours,
Clarence L. Hedgecoth.
